NEW BONDS GIVEN BY 5 DEFENDANTS

Vernal McDaniel, Gerard Godin, Earl Hall, Glen Edwards and John Ricker in Court.

SEPTEMBER TERM OPENS

Other Defendants in Criminal Cases to be Brought Into Court Later In Day

Circuit court got under way this morning at nine o'clock, on the September term, and most of the morning was taken up with court business relating to the calling of the docket, but the first few minutes were devoted to defendants providing bonds for their appearance later on during the term.

Although there were many arrests during the summer in the circuit court, only those whose bonds expired today were brought in this morning to furnish new bonds.

Vernal McDaniel, charged with criminal assault, was the first and his bond in the sum of $1,000 was provided.

Gerard Godin and Earl Hall, who are held on charges of grand larceny, provided bonds in the sum of $250 each.

Glen Edwards, held on a paternity charge, provided $500 bond and also a similar amount on a charge of seduction.

John Ricker gave bond on two charges upon which he is being held. The bond amounting to $250 was provided on a charge of encouraging delinquency and a similar amount on a charge of unlawfully giving away liquor.

Other defendants who were required to provide new bonds today were to be brought in court later today. After these defendants had given new bonds, the court then began on the calling of the docket, which required most of the morning.

It was undetermined whether the eight prisoners in jail would be brought over today or not, and the cases set for trial tomorrow will probably slide over.

A suit in partition was filed this morning in which Martha E. Matlock is plaintiff and James Lock, et al, defendants. The plaintiff asks that the court appoint commissioners to divide 68 acres of land, a portion of which she alleges is due her.

RUSH COUNTY MEN ATTEND REUNION

Ex-Service Men in 139th Represented at First Annual Meeting of The Regiment Association

IS HELD AT COLUMBUS, IND.

Rush county men who served in the 139th field artillery during the world war were represented by a delegation of approximately a dozen ex-service men at the first annual reunion of the 139 Field Artillery association which closed at Columbus, Ind., Saturday evening.

Local men attending, who started their career with the 139th, included Dr. Lowell M. Green, Edward Cooning, Mike McCoy Will B. Brann George Hogsett, Dr. Hale Pearsey, Raymond Benning and Lon Havens, Jr.

The reunion closed with a ball Saturday night. In the afternoon a business session of the association was held when the following officers were elected: President Charles B. Gross of Indianapolis; permanent secretary, Floyd Anderson of Elizabethtown; treasurer Simeon Strapp of Indianapolis. With the exception of the secretary, the officers will serve one year. The selection of the next place of meeting was left to the executive committee. At the business session the association adopted resolutions of greetings to the following: Governor Warren T. McCray, Adj. Gen. Harry B. Smith of Indianapolis, Col. Augustine McIntyre of Washington, D. C.; Col. George W. Freymuth of South Bend, Col. S. A. Colston of Washington, D. C.

MRS. MARY L. NORRIS DIES SUNDAY EVENING

Widow of Former Undertaker and Furniture Dealer at Milroy Expires Here

FUNERAL TUESDAY, 10 A. M.

Mrs. Mary L. Norris, age 77 years, expired Sunday night about 11 o'clock at her home, 711 N. Jackson street, after a several week's illness with a complication of diseases.

The deceased was the widow of the late S. O. Norris, a former furniture dealer and funeral director of Milroy. Mrs. Norris had lived for a great many years in that town, but in recent months had been living in Rushville with a niece, Edessa Innis, at whose home she expired.

The deceased is survived by no near relatives other than nieces and nephews.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock at the United Presbyterian church in Milroy, in charge of the Rev. Mr. McMichael, and interment will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

IRISH PARLEYS MAY BE REOPENED

De Valera's Note Leaves Way Open For Further Discussions of Peace Issues

PUZZLES LONDON PRESS

Chronicle Views it as Precipitating a Crisis—Cabinet to Confer on Tuesday

By ED L. KEEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
London, Sept. 5.—There will unquestionably be further discussion of the Irish situation between the British cabinet and representatives of Sinn Fein.

The note of President De Valera makes that plain, is the belief in London today.

Today's press is puzzled by the latest Irish note. The Times says:

"Our terms must and shall be insisted upon. Nevertheless, because the forthcoming Washington conference is to be momentous and requires momentous and requires the most favorable atmosphere and because peace justifies patience to the point of indulgence, the government should invite the Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries to further parleys."

The Daily Express says: "Mr. De Valera's letter should be considered entirely from the point of view of his last two or three sentences in which he expresses a willingness to reopen the negotiations."

The Chronicle says: "The letter precipitates something of a crisis," and wonders if the majority of Irishmen will be influenced by the final decision of the Dail Eireann.

The British cabinet ministers who are going to Scotland to confer with Lloyd George upon what reply shall be made to this latest note, will hold a preliminary conference at Inverness on Tuesday, before meeting with the prime minister the following day.

It is considered here that Sinn Fein's latest letter has somewhat cleared the air. Ireland has made perfectly clear what she wants.

THE BIRDS WERE HATCHED

A few months ago the Daily Republican published a story about a sparrow which laid eggs in a nest built under the seat of a Ford belonging to Rex Innis, living west of the city. The machine was in constant daily use and the mother had time only at night to sit on the eggs. Recently, according to word received here, the story was published in Los Angeles newspapers, but it had grown so old by the time it reached the coast that the eggs had hatched.

STATE FAIR OPENS WITH A BANG TODAY

Annual Exhibit Crowded With New Features and Old Ones on More Elaborate Scale

PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK

Something Going on at All Hours of The Day. With Special Events Scheduled For Nights

Indianapolis, Ind. Sept. 5.—Crowded with new features and with its old features elaborated the Indiana state fair opened here today with a bang.

People from all parts of the state were on hand soon after the gates opened. Throngs of farmers taking a new interest in breeding gathered in the stables to discuss the livestock. Necks craned at the soaring, nose diving, tail spinning airplanes.

The women's building had the greatest attractions with its display of fall fashions on living models, baby shows, girls school of home economics, needlework displays, paintings and sculpture and displays of flowers and culinary work.

The Purdue university band with its world's record bass drum and the chanters from the Murat temple of this city made the coliseum a pleasureable shelter from the sun.

Tonight the circus and the fireworks will begin. In the coliseum the show will be started by a parade of livestock. Then there will be twenty circus and vaudeville acts and auto polo stunts. On the race track the "Seige of the Dardanelles" a world's work naval and fireworks spectacle will be staged.

The judging, livestock contests and the usual horse races will be continued until Friday. At 1:30 o'clock Saturday the six auto races for the dirt track championship and the Barney Oldfield trophy will begin.

RULING HAS LITTLE EFFECT IN COUNTY

Decided Roads Built Under County Unit Law Must be Paid For With Special Levy

ROAD PENDING UNDER ACT

The ruling of Attorney General Lesh to the effect that roads built under the county unit road law must be paid for by a special tax levy and their cost of construction is not to be considered a part of the county's indebtedness, will have little if any effect in Rush county, according to county officials who were consulted.

No road has ever been built under the county unit law, although two have been proposed. One of them, the Jess Havens road, in southern Rushville township and Anderson township, was to come before the county board of commissioners for action today. The other one petitioned for under the county unit law, was the Indianapolis pike, extending from the west corporation line in Rushville to the Shelby county line. The commissioners were ready to award the contract when they were persuaded that they should not pave the road because the state highway commission would make a part of the state system.

In the opinion of the attorney general held that the law enacted in 1919 and under which many roads have been built in the state has created a new taxing unit. Funds for county unit roads according to the ruling may be raised by a tax to the amount of the constitution or legal debt limit, which is four percent of the county taxables.

FALLS AND BREAKS ARM

Mrs. Mary Geraghty, widow of Lawrence Geraghty, fell headlong down the stairway into the basement at her home, 323 West Eighth Street, Saturday evening and suffered a broken left arm. Her escape from more serious injuries, in view of her advanced age, was regarded as miraculous.

PEACE IN MINE WAR NOT LASTING

Federal Troops End Warfare But Basic Causes of Trouble Still Remain

SYSTEM NEEDS CHANGING

Abolition of Mine Guards Regarded as Only Thing Which Will Insure Peace

(By United Press)

Logan, W. Va., Sept. 5.—Quiet prevailed today over the Boone-Logan war area. United States troops were in control of the situation and no more trouble was anticipated except arsenal sniping.

Investigation of the miners march and of the source of the thousand dollars worth of machine guns, rifles, ammunition and food probably will be made in the counties involved in the trouble, it was said today.

It was expected that the probe would show the miners were furnished the funds from interests outside of West Virginia. Among the first investigations is expected to be at the meeting of the Boone county grand jury in November.

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 5.—A truce—not a permanent peace—exists today in West Virginia's mine warfare.

Federal troops have ended a fortnight's fighting between Union miners and their friends on one hand and state constabulary and mine guard deputies on the other. But the basic conditions that were at the bottom of this and previous battles remain. After withdrawal of regulars, it is only a question of time until another and probably more sanguinary outbreak will occur, unless these conditions are remedied.

The one thing that will insure permanent peace in West Virginia is abolition of the mine guard system. Right or wrong this system is at the bottom of West Virginia's warfare.

Those who want the troubles ended hope that the congressional investigating committee soon to come here will concentrate on the mine guard system and make its work a success by solving it.

Holdings of most powerful operators are located in Logan, McDowell, Mercer and Mingo counties. When union organizers began to get a foothold in other sections, of West Virginia, the operators concentrated in these states their efforts to thwart unionism.

The mine guards nominally are to protect the coal companies' properties. Actually they function to keep organizers away from the non-union

JAIL QUARANTINE IS RAISED TODAY

Girl Who Visited Jail Last Week is Found to Have Chickenpox Instead of Smallpox

VACCINATIONS FOR NOTHING

The quarantine at the local jail was lifted today, when the supposed case of smallpox turned out to be chickenpox, and the vaccinations and sore arms were all for nothing. Dr. Metcalf of New Salem, who attended a seven year old girl, who had visited the jail here one day last week, notified Sheriff Jones yesterday that the patient had a case of chickenpox, and that it was not smallpox.

The young girl visited John Griffin at the jail and when she got home that night, she was taken sick, and the physicians at first said she had smallpox. The prisoners and all members of Sheriff Jones family were vaccinated, and a quarantine established at the jail.

By lifting the quarantine, any prisoner arrested now will be taken to jail. During the quarantine one arrest was made and the prisoner was taken to Connersville and boarded in jail there for a few days.

CLINTON K. BANNING IS DEAD AT MANILLA

Complication of Diseases Causes Demise of Mrs. Sarah Mull Banning's Husband

ILL FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

Clinton Kirby Banning expired Saturday night about 11:15 o'clock at the Green Gables farm, Manilla, death being caused from an illness of several months from a complication of diseases. The deceased was 41 years old, and was a native of Cincinnati.

Mr. Banning was the husband of Mrs. Sarah Mull Banning, formerly of this city. The deceased had been in declining health for several weeks and the physicians held out little hopes for his recovery during the past few weeks.

Besides the widow, the deceased is survived by a brother and a sister residing in Cincinnati. The funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the late residence in Manilla, and interment will take place in the Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati.

ACTIVITY RESUMED IN THE COURT HOUSE

Annual Meeting of County Council to Make Annual Appropriations Set For Tuesday

COMMISSIONERS MEET TODAY

Activity will be resumed in the court house this week following the summer lull. It will be due not only to the opening of the circuit court, but also to the annual meeting of the county council, which appropriate the money which is needed to meet the expenses of the county government during the year 1922.

The county commissioners and all of the county officers have prepared budgets or estimates of what they expect to spend next year and the council has the authority to raise or lower those estimates in making the appropriations.

The county commissioners went into session this morning to attend to their regular monthly business and to prepare for the coming of the council tomorrow. The council will be in session two days on account of the law which provides that not more than $15,000 can be appropriated in a one-day session.

In addition to making appropriations, the council also fixes the county tax rate, the flood bond levy and the gravel, road bond redemption fund levies for each township, with much money is raised to build new roads. The only levy which the commissioners make is the gravel road tax, which is for the maintenance of roads.

FOOD PRICES ADVANCE

Washington, Sept. 5.—Retail food prices are beginning to soar again. Prices of food advanced in fourteen big cities during August according to an announcement of the labor department today. This may represent the beginning of a new advance of the price level for all commodities officials said.

ONLY 40 PERCENT VOTE ESTIMATED

Lack of Interest in Special Election Tuesday is Regarded as a Peril

SAME AS GENERAL ELECTION

From All Indications Public Sentiment is Opposed to Two Tax Amendments

Persons conversant with the situation estimated today that not more than forty percent of the normal vote would be cast in the special election to be held tomorrow on the thirteen proposed constitutional amendments.

Lack of interest has been apparent from the outset though efforts have been made to attract the attention of voters. Stress has been laid on particular proposals, but even they have not been studied by the voters, according to all indications.

The precinct lines will be the same as in a general election and the voting places will likewise be the same with a few exceptions where they were changed so as not to interfere with the schools which opened in seven townships this morning.

The election will be conducted along the same general lines as a regular election, with the single exception that there will be fewer officials. An inspector, clerk and judge will be in charge in each precinct. The inspectors obtained their supplies from the county clerk Saturday.

From all indications public sentiment is opposed to the two tax amendments. The campaign, which has been conducted against the proposed changes in the basic law relative to taxation and the absence of any unified effort to support these amendments, is expected to result in their rejection.

Although most of the other amendments generally are favored, and some regarded as extremely desirable, it is possible that all of the amendments will go down to defeat because of the concentration of interest in the tax amendments.

A majority of all the votes cast at the election is required to pass an amendment. In the election Tuesday supporters of some of the amendments fear that persons voting on the tax amendments will neglect to indicate a choice on the other amendments. This practice, if widespread, may result in loss of all the other amendments, even though they receive more favorable than negative votes.

The reason for this is that the constitution provides that no amendment can be adopted unless it is supported by a majority of all the voters voting at the election. There-

GIRL IS HURT WHEN MACHINE LEAVES ROAD

Miss Jinks of Laurel Suffers Badly Lacerated Thumb—Father Learning to Drive

CAR HITS A TELEPHONE POLE

Miss Jinks of Laurel suffered a seriously lacerated thumb on her right hand and severe bruises and her father sustained a deep flesh wound in the head when a big automobile driven by Mr. Jinks left the road just west of Milroy Sunday afternoon and ran into a telephone pole.

Mr. Jinks was learning to drive the car and lost control of it. The machine was not damaged badly and the girl was taken to Dr. W. T. Lampton's office in Milroy where she was given temporary relief and then brought to the Sexton hospital here. It was feared that Miss Jinks had suffered internal injuries but an examination disclosed that she had escaped with the exception of the lacerated thumb which was almost torn off.

There was also a woman in the car, and it was not learned whether or not she was the mother of the girl.

TO INVESTIGATE SCHOOL CONDUCT

Charges Made One Boy Inmate of Parental School Was Beaten to Death by Other Boys

URGED BY SCHOOL OFFICIALS

David Donahue, Truck Driver, Told Judge of the Circumstances Surrounding the Case

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Investigation of conduct of the parental school, an institution for truant children here, was under way today, following charges that one boy inmate was beaten to death by other boys at urgings from school officials.

Charles Deboer, instructor was to be arrested on charges of being an accessory to manslaughter. Fred Smith, superintendent of the school, faces the same charge.

Witnesses told municipal Judge Robert E. Gentzel, that when Orville Vardeman, 14, ran away from the school and hid in a tree, Deboer threw a brick at him and told him to come down. The boy dropped from the tree.

David Donahue, a truck driver, who was nearby, told the judge of what was alleged to have followed.

"Orville went into that cottage," he said. "There were loud screams. One of the bigger boys who came out later told me Deboer threw the boy on the floor and then told the other boys there is the boy who wanted to run away, go to him."

"He told me the other boys, about 20, rushed at Orville and beat him," Robert Gavin, the boy who talked to Donahue was questioned.

"Go to it, boys. He tried to kill himself, so kill him," Gavin quoted Deboer as saying in urging the other boys to beat the little fellow.

"Deboer told the boys they didn't know how to hit hard enough," Gavin said.

Orville died that night of a fractured skull. His jaw was broken and he had other bruises on his head.

fore, the amendment which receives the highest vote will set the pace for all the others.

For instance, if the general tax amendment receives the highest count by receiving 600,000 votes, all the other amendments must receive more than 300,000 favorable ballots in order to pass. Thus it may happen that amendment No. 1, prohibiting liens from voting until fully naturalized, might receive an almost unanimous favorable vote, but fail because the majority in its favor is less than 300,000.

Amendments to the constitution have been submitted to the voters only five times in the last seventy years. Three times amendments were presented at general elections and they always failed. The other special constitutional revision elections were held in 1873 and 1881, when the seven amendments resulting from the civil war were adopted. They had been presented at the general election in 1880, but failed because a majority of the persons voting at the election did not approve them.

Amendment No. 1 seems to be the most popular. Adoption of this amendment would prohibit aliens from voting until fully naturalized and will make the Indiana constitution conform to the national woman suffrage amendment. This amendment is endorsed by the League of Women Voters, ex-service men's organizations, the Indiana Republican Editorial association and the press generally.

No opposition has developed against amendment No. 2. Adoption will enable the legislature to simplify the registration law by making it applicable only to urban localities.

Amendment No. 3 would relieve the township trustees of the unnecessary task of taking a six-year enumeration of voters on which apportionment of state senators and representatives is based. It is proposed to eliminate the enumeration and base apportionment on votes cast for secretary of state at the preceding election.

The four ex-Governors of Indiana have indorsed amendment No. 4, which proposes to permit the Governor to veto separate items in an appropriation bill. Adoption of this amendment would tend to curb extravagant expenditures of public money, its advocates declare. No formal opposition to the amendment has developed.

Amendments No. 5, 6 and 7, propose to make the tenure of office of all state and county officials four years instead of two. The public seems to be apathetic as to these amendments. Adoption would not re-

FOREST FIRES CONTROLLED

Threatened Two Villages in Minnesota Last Night

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5.—Forest fires which threatened the villages of Solona and White Pine just east of Mille Lacs last night were believed under control early today.

Two hundred national guardsmen from St. Paul were due to arrive on the scene around 8 A. M.

The forest fires west of Moose Lake developed in a swamp and spread before a high wind Sunday threatened to wipe out the lumber camp of White Pine. Flames were within a stone's throw of the McGrath lumber yards on the outskirts of the village. The fires were within a mile of Solona and Volunteer fighters were exhausted trying to keep pace with the flames.

duce the number of elections as a congressional election must be held every two years.

For twenty years a movement has been on foot to write into the constitution the provisions included in proposed amendment No. 8, which would permit the Assembly to provide for the qualifications of persons admitted to the practice of law. This amendment had been recommended by the Indiana Bar Association. It has its enemies in the legal profession, however. Many reputable lawyers argue that they obtained their knowledge of law in some attorney's office and believe all other Hoosiers desiring to enter the profession should be given the same opportunity they had.

Amendment No. 9 provides for appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction. He is now elected. Educators generally favor this amendment. They declare it will take the office out of politics. Objection has been registered against the amendment, however, by men who fear that the state superintendent would be robbed of his independence if serving as an appointee.

The general tax amendment, No. 10, on which most interest has been centered, proposes to throw down the constitutional bars so that the general assembly can use its discretion in enacting tax legislation. Its advocates declare it will enable the enactment of a classification tax law. Opposition to this amendment, as well as to No. 11, providing for establishment of a state income tax, is strong.

Amendment No. 12 would permit negroes to serve in the state militia. The constitution now prohibits such enlistments.

The last of the amendments, No. 13, is designed to eliminate lobbying of officeholders for increases in salaries and extension of terms at each meeting of the Assembly. It would prohibit increasing salaries of public officials or lengthening their terms during the period for which they have been elected or appointed.

That Knife-Like Pain

Is Only One of Nature's Warnings of Weak or Disordered Kidneys

Have you a lame back, aching day and night? Do you feel sharp pains after stooping? Are the kidneys sore? Is their action irregular? Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the medicine recommended by so many Rushville people. Read this case:

Mrs. Bertie Sager, N. Sexton St., Rushville says: "Some time ago I was in bad shape with my back and kidneys. My back was lame and sore and when I stooped, sharp cutting pains were unbearable, and felt as though someone were piercing me with a knife. My kidneys were weak and felt heavy and dull and they didn't act right. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a couple boxes. They soon rid me of the trouble."

Amusements

Stellar Role at Princess

"Nobody loves a fat man." "You're dead wrong," says Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle.

See why in Mr. Arbuckle's new Paramount comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," which will be shown at the Princess today and Tuesday. Betty Ross Clark is the leading woman.

In the new Arbuckle comedy Miss Clark plays the role of Beth Elliot a girl whose property in the little town of Grand River is saved by Mr. Arbuckle as the jovial traveling salesman, from two scheming scoundrels, and who then breaks the proverbial rule and falls in love with a fat man, for the traveling salesman is physically a heavyweight.

The play was written by James Forbes. Joseph Henabery directed, and Walter Woods wrote the scenario. In the cast are Frank Holland, Wilton Taylor, Lucille Ward, Jim Blackwell, Richard Wayne, and others.

George Beban at the Mystic

"One Man in a Million," the latest Robertson-Cole release, in which George Beban, considered by many the greatest portrayer of foreign types on the American screen and stage, will be shown for the first time at the Mystic today and Tuesday. This is the strongest vehicle in which Mr. Beban has ever appeared and critics who have reviewed the picture are unanimous in their verdict that it is the greatest drama ever screened.

The story is replete with human interest touches and has its full quota of comedy relief. In presenting the picture, Mr. Beban climbs into a unique niche in the cinema hall of fame. Not only is he appearing in the stellar role but to him is due the credit of having written the story of the photoplay after which he produced and directed it. The author did not rely upon the human equation entirely to "put over" his masterpiece.

A score of frolicsome dogs and a really clever parrot help tell the story.

Administration Finishes Half Year Mark With Warfare Raging Close to Capitol

IS MOST SERIOUS INCIDENT

Period Has Seen Four Achievements Including Signing of Peace and League Conference

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 5.—President Harding closed his first six months in office Saturday night with industrial warfare raging a night's ride away from the capitol.

White House officials realized the president has plunged into the most serious incident of his administration thus far and that opponents of the administration may seek to make capital out of the sending of troops into West Virginia despite the serious crisis in West Virginia administration spokesmen were congratulating the president upon his accomplishments during his first six months in the White House.

These achievements include:
1—Signing of peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary.
2—Calling of a disarmament conference of unemployment.
4—Drafting of plans for reorganizing the federal government on a more efficient basis.

5—Enactment of important laws on the budget, emergency tariff, immigration, control of the meat packers, regulation of grain exchanges, extension of credits to farmers through the war finance corporation and the consolidation of the war risk bureau and other veteran relief organizations into the veterans service bureau.

Rail Strike Impending

employee impends. The railway labor board recently made an award in which it reduced the wages of railroad employees and changed the working rules so as to abolish time and a half pay for work done on Sundays and holidays. The men have voted to reject the award (the finding of the labor board was not the result of a voluntary submission by arbitration, but an exercise of power of mediation granted by statute.) The union officials, while opposed to an acceptance of the award are insistent that there shall not be a strike until further negotiations with the railroad officials are had.

On the Pennsylvania system there is a conflict between the officials and the employees over recognition of the union. The railroad labor board had ruled that the men had a right to be represented by officials of the union in their negotiations with the railroad concerning wages and rules. The Pennsylvania officials refused to accept their decision and announced that they would confer only with their own men.

At the executive council of the American Federation of Labor meeting at Atlantic City President Gompers protested against further reductions of wages. In the last two months the cost of living has decreased only 2% on the average, while many articles have advanced in price. Rents, especially in the larger cities are increasing, and this increase is reflected in the price of all sorts of commodities. A decrease in wages means a decrease in buying power and a consequent increase of unemployment. Already, it is reported, over 5,000,000 are unemployed in this country.

On the other hand, though a cut in wages may mean lowering the ability of the consumer to purchase, it has its advantages. It has been pointed out repeatedly that we can never hope for a reduction in freight and passenger rates until railroad operating expenses are lessened, which can be brought about only by reducing wages.

Most of the news of the day is unpleasant, apparently, but it all has a bright side. The pessimists all point to the fact that our foreign trade decreased $3,176,000,000 last year, but they neglect to explain. The loss was due to the lower prices which prevailed. The volume of our foreign trade in reality was larger.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor has discovered that the plot against the wage earner has extended to the writers of school text books, and sees a well organized effort to misinform the children of the public schools on industrial and economic problems. To offset that malign influence, the council will furnish schools throughout the country with books, pamphlets, and speeches presenting its version of industrial problems. Here is a chance for the Plumb Plan Leaguers to unload some of the literature from their propaganda headquarters in Washington.

Mr. Lloyd George will come to Washington fully fortified for the fray. He will have with him the Anglo-Japanese alliance, the recent vote of the British parliament to

Are They Getting A Square Deal?

THOSE Children of yours—Man, but you're proud of them. You think of the things you want to give them—an education — everything that will help them make their mark in life. But— are you doing anything besides thinking about it? Are you really giving them a square deal?

One thing that contributes a great deal towards a man's success in life is the proper Home Environment during his youth. Children cannot get the proper environment under somebody else's roof. Just renting a house, moving about, changing schools, etc., doesn't give them the opportunity to progress that they would have if their folks owned a home. And — have you stopped to think that if you keep on renting, the money you will pay out between now and the time when your children are ready for college will more than pay their way through school? Think it over! Give those children of yours a square deal; and when you decide to build call on us for assistance. The men in our Home Builders' Department can give you valuable suggestions and advice relative to planning, financing and building your home. We will give you honest-to-goodness Service and Quality that Satisfies.

DROP CLOSE ONE TO CONNERSVILLE

Tail Lights Suffer With Cooley Jinx and Go Down to Defeat Sunday by Score of 5 to 4

CLEVER GETS POOR SUPPORT

Rushville Loses Golden Opportunity to Win in the Eighth and Ninth Innings

The Connorsville Reserves, who took the place of Brookville Sunday, handed the Tail Lights a 5 to 4 defeat, in a contest in which the locals had no license to lose, but the jinx of Scott Cooley continued and the locals could only connect for six safe hits. On account of the rain Brookville cancelled and the local management got the Connorsville team to come here. The Connorsville team presented a loaded line-up and several of the players will be here today in the Brookville line-up.

It was announced today that Alexander, Lexington, Ky., will be on the mound for Rushville today against Brookville, and he will be opposed by Shuck and Klopp. The latter caught the Sunday game for Connorsville.

Yesterday neither team scored until the fifth inning, when Connorsville bunched hits and put across three runs. The runs were made on a base on balls, three singles and poor judgment by the locals.

After the visitors had got a three run lead, in the last half of the same inning; Clever, first up, singled for the first hit off of Cooley, and Bennett, next up, followed with a home run swat over left field fence, scoring two runs. Then Sharp and Smith fanned and Shaw ended the inning by grounding out.

The next little hit for the locals came in the seventh, when Clever again singled, but he was left to die on base when Bennett and Sharp failed to deliver.

Connorsville made it five runs when they got two more across in the sixth. A two base hit, and a couple of singles were responsible for the two counters. After this inning Connorsville got only one hit off of Clever, which was a single in the eighth by Tressler.

Rushville's glorious opportunity to win the game went up in the air in two innings, the eighth and ninth. In the eighth inning the bases were clogged. Smith made the first out on a grounder and Shaw next up, was given a base on balls. Joyce singled, and Firestone was safe on a bunt along first base line, which was fumbled by Cooley. With the bases full, Byrne drew a walk, and Shaw was forced home, making one counter. McCarty, next up, hit the air for three strikes, but Joyce scored on a passed ball. With two on bases, Clever fanned for the third out.

Then in the last inning, poor judgment on somebody's part lost the game for Rushville. Bennett, first up, drew a walk. Doll went in to bat for Sharp, and on the first ball thrown, Bennett attempted to steal second but was caught. He said it was the signal to steal. Doll was out at first on roller, but had Bennett played safe, he could have reached second. Then Smith and Shaw each singled, but they both died on their base when Joyce grounded out to Cooley, who threw to first.

The locals never could hit Cooley and his slants, and in several games played here they never have been able to win from him. Clever pitched a good game, but was not given the best of support in pinches. Most of the hits went in left field, but Sharp was playing too deep. Sharp dropped a fly in the seventh inning, but the error did not prove costly.

The game today will be called at 3 o'clock, and the locals will have to tighten up, or the visitors will win.

The locals had six men left on bases while Connorsville had 10 die on base during the game.

Alexander, who pitches for Rushville today, is said to be a league twirler, and may show up the fast Brookville team.

PEACE IN MINE WAR NOT LASTING

men and even known union members are barred in this territory. In many instances the peace officers of these counties occupy the role of mine guards. One sheriff prominently identified with the mine warfare, just ended is said to draw from the operators a substantial commission for every ton of coal mined and in the several years he has held office is said to have amassed a fortune.

Mingo, where renewed trouble threatens is now partly organized. A strike has been on for nearly two years. Strikers evicted from company houses, are living in tent colonies.

That this long fight can be carried on so bitterly is explained partly by the character of the natives of West Virginia and eastern Kentucky. They are mostly of pure Welsh and Scotch stock. They are probably the most independent people in the country and somewhat out of touch with the rest of the world, have kept up the practice of settling their own disputes without recourse to law. Nearly every man and boy believes it his inalienable right to pack a gun if he wishes.

These miners have come to regard the state and those county authorities who have not actually sided with them, as inherent enemies. This is because the authorities have been against the union. The operators are proud of the fact that during the last coal strike their mines kept running. They say they saved the country from a disastrous situation when all union mines were shut down. The unions furthermore have been unreasonable at times and are prone to cause trouble over the most trivial details.

These arguments are used by the operators as a basis for their determination to prevent unionization and to maintain the mine guard system. Union miners and practically every common citizen in the fields are determined on an opposite course.

With the arrival of federal troops miners today are hiding their guns and ammunition to be ready for the next war. Another wave of wild rumors and a case of actual brutality by a mine guard and it will be on unless the congressional committee does something about it.

Other miners are surrendering their arms and returning from the "front" without interference—often on special trains.

Federal officers are in command and state authorities operate under their direction.

The casualty list of the warfare frequently placed in the hundreds is now believed small considering the number of men fighting. It may not be more than a score.

Miners Returning Home

Madison, W. Va., Sept. 5.—Hundreds of miners are making their way to this town on foot, in automobiles and on special trains, where they are returning from the front along the Boone-Logan county border.

All day yesterday steady streams were passing through Madison in the direction of Coal River and Cabin Creek district. The miners appeared to be satisfied that their purpose has been accomplished in bringing federal troops to the scene of disturbance.

As they passed through the town they were again searched by federal troops for arms, but most of them had delivered them up at the firing line.

The miners are coming back from the front in a peaceable and orderly manner and in large numbers. Prosecuting Attorney Mullens stated today. The miners are reported to be giving up their weapons voluntarily he said. There have been no reported clashes with federal troops.

EXPERTS IN DARK AS TO NEXT YEAR'S TAXES

So Complete Was Lack of Information That First Step Proposed Was Reading of Bill

NOT ENOUGH MONEY PRODUCED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 5.—Senate tax experts are as completely in the dark as to what next year's taxes will be as the most obscure taxpayer in the country.

They admitted this today when the Senate finance committee took up the tax bill. So complete was the lack of information by the committee members that the first step proposed was the reading of the bill passed by the House.

The House bill, Senators said, must be vitally changed. It doesn't produce enough money for one thing, yet it leaves the taxes too high, they complained.

But when questioned concerning proposed changes in the House plan, not a single member of the committee except Senator Smoot (Utah) had a plan.

Most Republican members of the committee are waiting for Senator Penrose, the chairman to outline a program.

CAPITAL MUST HAVE FAITH IN THE FUTURE

Remedy For Unemployment Problem is Voiced by World's Biggest Landlord

PRACTICES AS HE PREACHES

Washington, Sept. 5—"Capital must have faith enough in the country's future before taking charge. Capital must start the things moving instead of holding back and letting depression continue."

This is the remedy for the present unemployment problem outlined to the United Press by Senator Colver of New Jersey, the world's biggest landlord.

It is the remedy the coming federal congress of unemployment will be forced to recommend if they are to accomplish any real service to the six million jobless men in the United States, he declared.

"I am practicing what I preach. I am building houses", the senator said. "I know I will eventually dispose of all of them at a profit."

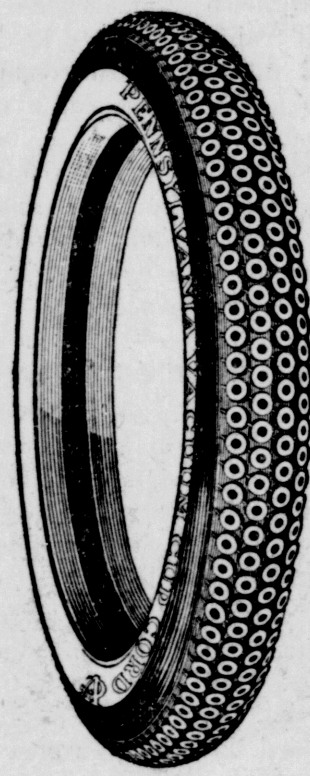

The men that have money ought to put it to work. Capital ought to take charge if necessary to get the wheels moving. I predict that this will be done before long.

JOHN DIXON IS ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Evidence is Not Sufficient For Peace Bond

John Dixon was acquitted late Saturday afternoon in Justice Stech's court on the charge of surety of peace, when the jury that heard the case decided that the evidence did not show that the defendant had given any cause for being placed on a peace bond. The jury required only a few minutes to reach their decision in the matter. Dixon was alleged to have made remarks that he would do Mrs. Ben Adams, his mother-in-law, bodily harm, and she had the charges preferred.

The state was represented in the case by Prosecutor Stevens, and the defense was represented by C. W. Duncan, attorney.
